Martin Luther--His Life and Time.

The Lutherans of Didsbury and vicinity are planning on having "Martin Luther—His Life and Time", a classic eight-reel moving picture, which has been shown throughout the States and is now being routed in Canada show n here sometime during November. This picture is a religious-historical picture throughout, depicting the life of the Reformer and the events which led to the Reformation. In an additional comment the "Educational Screen" makes the following statement: A real picture for the church (any church.) It is a presentation of the great hero of the Reformation that is true to history." As such it is of interest to all protestants. Together with this picture an effort is being made to secure also the showing of "The dedication of Concordia Seminary," a three million dollar institution, which was dedicated in St. Louis last summer. All details have been left in the hands of a committee.

The masquerade ball to be given by the I.O.D.E. will take place on Thursday, November 11th, in the Opera House. Prizes will be offered and refreshments served during the evening Admission 1 50 a couple, 50c for extra lady. Costumes may be obtained from Miss Pearl Ruby.

BURNSIDE.

Ellis Barnes has purchased a new Stewart-Warner Radio from C' F. Dooley of Didsbury, and his friends are now enjoying pleasant evenings listening to music from coast to coast.

EMPIRE DEFENCE MATTER DEBATED AT CONFERENCE

London.—Despite the existence of strong peace treaties, the question of imperial defence is likely to provoke animated discussion at the Imperial conference, Premier Baldwin's speech at the formal opening stressed the manner in which New Zealand and Singapore were adopting the idea of sharing in the maintenance cost of naval bases and hinted at the possibility of an arrangement with the Irish Free State in the matter of coast defence.

It is understood General Hertzog, Premier of South Africa, is as strongly opposed to any idea of a contribution for naval defence as was the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier when he was Prime Minister of Canada. It is likely Premier King will proceed cautiously in this matter.

Mr. Baldwin's references to the work of other parts of the Empire in naval contributions is interpreted as a hint to Canada.

Canada's relation to Great Britain on continental lines also will be raised to a vital issue, it is thought, by the speech of Rt. Hon. Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Deep interest is being manifest in the possible disclosures of Sir Austen on the inner import of the recent meeting between himself and Premier Mussolini of Italy and its effect on the Locarno policy.

Swept By Hurricane

Thirty Dead and Three Hundred Injured in City of Havana

Havana, Cuba.—Thirty persons were killed and 300 injured in the city of Havana by the hurricane that swept over the city and other sections of Cuba, according to an official announcement.

All the lower parts of the city were inundated, causing thousands of persons to need temporary aid and shelter.

Police and soldiers were patrolling the streets of the city to prevent possible attempts at looting.

President Machado ordered all places of business closed and instructed the police and military to shoot without warning any persons discovered attempting to carry out depredations.

A house in the Calle Fernandina collapsed during the storm, killing five persons and injuring eight. Another house on the Malecon was inundated and fell. Thus far the authorities have been unable to explore the ruins.

Many homes in the suburbs are reported to have been wrecked or seriously damaged. From the mouth of the harbor to the monument erected in memory of the officers and men who were killed in the explosion of the United States battleship Maine in 1898, the water at times was several metres deep along the Malecon. The Maine monument was destroyed except for the base.

Release Homing Pigeons

Montreal, Que.—More than 2,000 pigeons, representing an investment of more than $10,000 were shipped recently to various points in Ontario where they were released to fly back to their home roosts. The homing pigeons of Montreal are rapidly gaining reputations as capable travellers. Very few of them ever lose themselves.

Radio Beam Transmission

London.—Radio beam transmissions are to be started this week between Rodmin, Cornwall and Montreal, according to The Daily Express. The newspaper asserts that a prolonged severe test has been successful and the Government has granted a provisional license for a regular service. Messages will be despatched in both directions during 18 hours out of 24.

Is Representing Canada

Montreal.—The Right Hon. Charles Joseph Doherty, K.C., LL.D., former minister of justice in the Borden Government and one of Canada's leading legal authorities, called for England on Friday by the Canadian Pacific steamship Montcalm to represent the Dominion in the Labrador boundary dispute case before the privy council.

Named President Of Canadian Organization

S. B. Gundy Elected Head of Dominion Board of Trade

Saint John, N.B.—S. B. Gundy, a past president of the Toronto Board of Trade, and credited with being one of the principal agents in calling together the Winnipeg economic conference out of which was born the Canadian Board of Trade, was chosen this morning to be first president of the Dominion organization. In proposing his name, A. O. Dawson, past president of the Montreal Board of Trade, paid a high tribute to Mr. Gundy's energy and capabilities.

Mr. Gundy, in accepting office, predicted the formation of the Canadian Board of Trade would open up new avenues of co-operation between the different boards throughout the Dominion.

Other officers elected, were: Vice-presidents, A. O. Dawson, Montreal; Capt. L. Dollar, Vancouver; J. H. Paulhus, Montreal; R. G. Persse, Winnipeg; L. W. Simms, Saint John, chairman of the executive; William Birks, Montreal.

Liner Constructed To Prevent Seasickness

New Greyhound Fitted With Rolling and Balancing Tanks

Hamburg.—Seasickness will be unknown aboard the new Hamburg-American liner New York, according to experts who have examined this huge trans-Atlantic steamer which Mrs. J. W. Walker, wife of New York City's mayor, christened. It is claimed that the contour of this 21,000 ton vessel, together with a system of rolling and balancing tanks will completely eliminate need for fear of the much dreaded ocean malady.

The New York is equipped with two turbines which will provide 13,000 horsepower and assure an average speed of 16 knots an hour. Wireless telegraph mechanism will make possible long distance sea conversations with New York as soon as the boat leaves Hamburg. The vessel is scheduled to make its first western trip about June, 1927.

Dry Forces Active

Will Oppose Candidates Who Support Ontario Liquor Policy

Toronto.—"We are not anticipating the necessity of entering 'dry' candidates in any riding, but we will have to be guided entirely by local conditions as they become apparent," stated W. W. Peck, general secretary of the Ontario Prohibition Union, when asked whether the union would be putting candidates into the field at the coming provincial general elections.

Mr. Peck said that there would be a meeting at which committees would be set up energetically to oppose any candidate who supported the liquor policy of the Conservative Government.

A Serious Question

Premier Ferguson of Ontario Would Have Voters Consider Manifesto in Deliberate Way

Toronto.—Premier Ferguson will be content with any verdict the electors of Ontario may pronounce at the polls, December 1, if in the meantime they will consider the proposals of the Ontario Government's election manifesto in a quiet, deliberate way, dealing with the matter as a condition and not as a theory, the Premier said in an interview here. Mr. Ferguson said:

"I have nothing to say about the comment made by a number of people, because apparently they have not criticized in any respect the grounds I've given in reaching my conclusions. I put before the public the general conditions as I see them, and am asking for a careful discussion and consideration of the problem. It does not serve any good purpose simply to declaim and shout 'Ferguson is tied up with the wets.' What Ferguson desires of the general public is to consider seriously this great question, which touches so closely the moral welfare of all manhood and womanhood of this province."

No U.S. Minister To Canada

President Coolidge Can See no Present Need for One

Washington.—President Coolidge can see no present reason for sending an American minister to Ottawa when Canada sends a resident minister to Washington.

In any event, Mr. Coolidge is quite certain such action would require an act of Congress.

At present, it was said, he feels consular questions are being handled efficiently with Canada and that any other questions that arise can be dealt with through the present organization.

Reports that the United States would appoint a minister to Ottawa followed the announcement that Hon. Vincent Massey of Toronto, would be sent to Washington as Canada's first resident minister.

Did Not Attend Unveiling Of Tablet

Irish Delegate to Empire Conference Explained Absence to Premier Baldwin

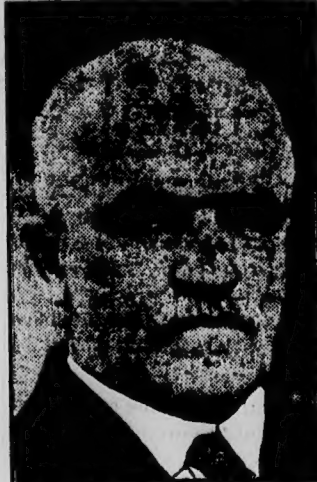

London.—W. T. Cosgrave, Irish delegate to the Empire Conference, did not attend the unveiling of a tablet to Empire war dead in Westminster Abbey. He sent instead Kelvin O'Higgins, vice-president of the council of ministers in Dublin, and explained his own absence in a letter to Premier Baldwin. In it he said that O'Higgins lost a brother in the world war, whereas he himself was engaged in the Easter rebellion in Dublin in 1916, in which British as well as Irish were killed.

Cosgrave added that he feared his presence might bring pain to bereaved Englishmen, although he, personally, would have felt honored by attending.

Advertising Plan Dropped

London.—It is understood the government intends dropping the postmark advertising scheme which has aroused strong opposition from the large advertisers throughout the country, or limiting the advertising in such slogans as "buy British goods."

HON. A. P. McNAB

Trade In Favor Of Canada

Exports to South Africa Much Greater Than Imports

Ottawa.—The announcement of Premier King in London of steps to negotiate a trade treaty with South Africa, while quite in keeping with the export trade plan of the Government, raises some questions here as to just what concessions will be asked and given. It is presumed that Canada may ask pretty much what has been granted by Australia. South Africa already enjoys, automatically, the preferences extended under the Australian, New Zealand and West Indian treaties, although her products are not wholly the same. Figures for the last fiscal year disclose the trade to be very lopsided in favor of Canada. Imports from South Africa in the year totalled only $86,144, while exports from Canada to that Dominion amounted to $9,276,000. The principal items of imports were: fruits, $17,000; hides, $11,000; wool, $21,000; and diamonds, $20,000.

Canadian exports included motor cars, $3,950,000; agricultural implements, $617,000; pulp and paper, $1,400,000; rubber goods, $830,000; and wheat and flour, $1,300,000.

Scotland Is Alarmed

Would Take Steps to Limit Number of Immigrants From Ireland

Glasgow, Scotland.—Steps to induce the British parliament to pass regulations limiting the number of Irish immigrants who have been invading Scotland have been taken here.

Nine thousand Irish persons came to Scotland in 1924, and in five years there have been 45,000 immigrants from the Free State. Advocates who are desirous that parliament intervene claim that the Scots are threatened with being crowded out of their own country.

Will Be Rhodes Lecturer

London.—Sir Robert L. Borden, former premier of Canada, has accepted an invitation from Oxford University and the trustees of the Rhodes Scholarships to become the Rhodes memorial lecturer at the university for next year.

STATE OF RUSSIA NOW WORSE THAN UNDER THE CZAR

Montreal.—The political institutions in Russia are worse than under the Czar. There is not one breath of freedom, of thought, or action or of initiative in Russia today.

This is the opinion of the present Russian regime held by Mrs. Emma Goldman Colton, better known to the world by her first two names, who has arrived from Europe and is visiting friends in Montreal.

Mrs. Colton desired that it be made clear she did not come into Canada incognito, but that her passport naturally had been made out in her husband's name.

"I don't want Canadian people to think I sneaked into Canada," she said.

Mrs. Colton was deported from the United States in 1919, because of her revolutionary opinions and she went to Russia.

"That does not mean I favor a return to Czarism," Mrs. Colton added to her condemnation of present conditions. "But when a people rise in two revolutions, as the Russians have done, one has a right to expect a little more in the way of freedom and well-being than under the terrible regime of the Czar."

"Instead," she said, "I found a Russian dictatorship which added to the many evils of Czarism a great many evils of the Communist state."

The women of Russia, declared Mrs. Colton, had not gained the emancipation they had struggled for for 70 years.

Germans Form Aluminum Trust

No Mention Made of Including Britain or United States

Paris.—Through the efforts of leaders of the German aluminum industry, another Continental trust has been formed, according to information reaching Paris business circles. A tentative agreement has been reached and France will probably be included before the cartel becomes operative.

The formation of this combination will be another coup for German business. Being a dominant factor in the aluminum trade anyway, Germany, instead of carrying on the fight for world markets single-handed, will have the financial and productive power of the cartel behind her.

Naturally, other members—probably Switzerland, Holland and Belgium—will benefit, but Germany will be the most fortunate one in the agreement.

No mention is made of Great Britain or the United States and it is presumed that these two nations do not figure in the projected trust, either directly or indirectly.

Hoping For Straight Contest

No Three-Cornered Fight in Ontario Election Looked For

Toronto.—Although discussion is rife with local politicians regarding the possibility of an agreement between Liberals and Progressives in the matter of three-cornered contests in the coming provincial general election, there is no indication as yet that such an agreement will be reached. The general impression seems to be that there will be no formal agreement but only a tacit understanding.

Prominent members of both parties concerned asserted that it was both probable and desirable that Progressives should not oppose Liberals, or vice versa, in any riding, but denied that there had been any meeting of representatives of the two parties.

Western Writer Receives Recognition

Regina.—Miss Irene Moore, of the Morning Leader staff, has been successful in winning a prize of $500 for an essay on La Verandrye in a literary contest conducted by the Bureau of Archives of the Province of Quebec. Twelve subjects were treated, but only seven prizes awarded. Miss Moore is the only westerner to share in the awards. Other prize-winners were: J. D. LeLande, Montreal; Miss Dorothy Heneker, Montreal; Dr. A. Vallee, Quebec; C. S. Blue, Ottawa; S. Marlin, Ottawa, and J. N. Fautoua, Montreal.

Famous Horses for Canada

The best of Irish and Scotch hunters are being continually bought up by Canadians. The photo shows a recent batch shipped on the Canadian Pacific liner Meigana to Canada. The horse at the extreme right is the famous "Grand Fashion," a class prize winner in most of the principal shows in England and Scotland.

Local and General.

Those who have suffered inconvenience from carbonization of gas in their gasoline appliances will be glad to learn that W. G. Liesemer has received this week a consignment of a high-grade gasoline, which should eliminate to a considerable extent trouble caused previously. Mr. Liesemer has installed a new pump for this gasoline and a trial will convince you that it is all that is claimed for it.

Whilst threshing operations were being proceeded with on the farm of E. Collins, last Wednesday, from some unknown cause fire started up between the separator and the engine. The separator caught fire, as also did the stack and a granary. About three hundred bushels of grain were also badly burnt.

The social evening arranged for last Friday by the Women's Institute was well attended, and the program thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. Court whist, refreshments, and dancing occupied the attention of all present, and considerably enhanced the reputation enjoyed by the above organization for social evenings of this nature.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillipson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stader at Sylvan Lake last Sunday.

A pedlar visited the Pioneer office on Wednesday soliciting orders for tailoring and groceries, but when it was suggested to him that he do a little advertising to make himself better known, there was nothing doing.

Harvest thanksgiving service will be held in St. Cyprian's church on Sunday, November 7th, at three p.m. Will friends wishing to donate gifts for decorating kindly leave them in the vestibule of the church on Saturday, November 6th as early as possible, thus giving the ladies ample time to arrange the gifts.

A christening party was held by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fisher on Thursday, October 21st, at their residence, Rev. Mr. Hayes officiating at the ceremony. A party of friends were also present and joined the happy parents in helping to celebrate the event by partaking of a piece of cake kept from a former auspicious occasion.

On Saturday, at the Opera House, the picture for that evening will be "Padlocked," a Rex Beach story. On Wednesday, November 3rd, "The Midshipman" will be presented, starring Romon Novarro.

Two of the largest mail-order houses in the States, it has just been announced, are to be consolidated, their assets amounting in the aggregate to the stupendous total of $235,000,000.

The pith of this announcement lies in the fact that these firms have largely been enabled to roll up their huge wealth at the expense of the small country town.

It is a fact worth considering. One cannot ignore that where the small town merchant confines his energies and activities to a comparatively small area, his expenses are proportionately greater than the big mail-order house. No call comes to the latter to support local organizations no demand can be made to help finance road improvements, laying down of sidewalks, or public schools. Yet thousands of dollars are sent out of the rural communities year by year, to swell the coffers of these outside houses. Does it pay?

N. Swalm finished threshing on Tuesday off 170 acres, his average for the whole being 33 bushels. From acreage sown to Ruby, summer-fallow, he obtained 44 bushels to the acre, and a piece of Garnet wheat yielded 47 bushels.

BULLETIN ON FALL PIG PRODUCTION.

The Department of Animal Husbandry of the University of Alberta has recently revised the bulletin on "The production of fall pigs in Alberta." This bulletin deals with the present status of the production of fall pigs in Alberta, gives a general review of market prices and receipts on the markets in Western Canada, and points to the importance of securing a more regular supply of hogs on the central markets throughout the year. A comparison is made of the relative economy of spring and fall farrowed pigs based on several years work at the university. Suggestions are offered in connection with the feeding, housing, and general management of breeding stock and market hogs where two litters a year are handled. An attempt has been made to discuss the various phases in such a way that the reports may be of practical value to the hog raisers of Alberta.

Copies may be procured from the Extension Department University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alta.

Human Flies Scale C.P.R. Chimney

Walking around a two-foot-wide platform that encircled the top of the 218-foot-high chimney at the end of the Windsor street station train platforms, Henry Held, of New York, and Richard Boucher, of Three Rivers, drew many eyes from neighboring streets and from the windows of the C.P.R. offices. The men had been engaged by the company to repoint the bricks, clean the surface and repair the lighting rods on the huge chimney.

The work of getting the platform to the top of the chimney occupied the men for eight days. Every upward movement of the platform was to a height of six feet and at the last minute of completing this work one of the men would be standing on a single plank, the rest having been raised to the upper position. This ticklish work was to the onlooker dangerous in the extreme, but the men thought nothing of it. Asked if he ever suffered from attacks of vertigo, Held laughed and said he never had. "I feel just as safe up there as I do on the ground," he said. He is a man over sixty years of age and has been doing this kind of work for the past forty years. "I feel right at home on the C.P.R. chimney," he added, "for I built it in 1912." However, he is thinking of quitting in another couple of years, although his nerve is as good as ever it was. He owns a half-section of land in Alberta and it is there that he says he will settle down.

Both men moved with the same ease at the perilous height as though they were walking on the street. At times, when hauling a plank upwards, one of them stooped over the edge of the platform looking sheer down the drop of 200 feet. At other times they swung out from the walls of the chimney perched on a tiny cradle. At all times they appeared to have complete mastery of the situation.

Although it took them eight days to hoist the platform to its present position, they glided from it to the ground on a cradle in slightly less than a minute.

"The Day and the Work."

To each man is given a day and his work for the day;
And once, and no more, he is given to travel this way.
And woe if he flies from the task,
whatever the odds;
For the task is appointed to him on the scroll of the gods.

There is waiting a work where only his hands can avail;
And so, if he falters, a chord in the music will fail.
He may laugh to the sky, he may lie
for an hour in the sun;
But he dare not go hence till the labor appointed is done.

To each man is given a marble to carve for the wall;
A stone that is needed to heighten
the beauty of all;
And only his soul has the magic to give it a grace;
And only his hands have the cunning to put it in place.

We are given one hour to parley and struggle with Fate,
Our wild hearts filled with the dream our brains with the high debate.

It is given to look on life once, and once only to die;
One testing, and then at a sign we go out of the sky.

Yes, the task that is given to each man, no other can do;
So the errand is waiting; it has waited through ages for you.
—Edward Markham.

Wheat prices have gained about 10c a bushel during the week. Friday's market was particularly strong and looked at times like a runaway bull. The weather has undoubtedly been a big factor, for it has been a case of snow and rain in some parts of the prairies every day except Saturday. The constant and rapid advances at Liverpool have been reflected here, although many argue that Liverpool prices would quickly fade if ocean freights should ease off.

There is a tendency to lose sight of the fact that a settlement of the coal strike would not mean an immediate slump in freights.
There are too many holes to fill to appreciably lessen the demand for a considerable time. There is some easing off of lake freight rates probably due to the ore moving business being at the close of the season. Daily inspection now show about 60 per cent. of the wheat coming in grading tough and about 95 per cent. of the oats and barley.

The board of grain commissioners is taking urgent steps to deal with the damaged grain situation and will meet the representatives of the elevator companies the middle of the week to formulate plans for the immediate treatment of all tough and damp grain on arrival at the terminals.

Just to show the power of the First Channel, the boat was towed across the bottom from Old Point to the Norfolk navy yard about five miles in an unprecedented forty-one minutes.

Except for weak and numb feeling in the arms, it felt as if the worst of his feat.

Seated in a huge diving suit with leaden shoe soles and carrying eight additional pounds of lead strapped to his back, the 30-year-old Hawaiian fisherman pressed his way through the dark water at 1.49 m.p.h. and despite many obstacles, including an old ship anchor in which he became entangled, forged ahead and completed his trip at 1.30 p.m. A launch with a motor and a second diver Janna couldn't she told him and left him with a parting sally. A moment later she timidly touched Mrs. Pendleton on the arm. "You won't mind, will you," she asked Pendleton's wife, "if I say that I want to know Brandon, too, had missed and so had no time to get ready, and to glimmered through the rooms, decided to seek her out in morning room, off the reception the little retreat of which few guests knew and to which none had been on but Kenilworth and Roddy. Roddy was convinced that she had not gone, even if he had Joanna, without a word to his test.

She would not forgive him, he thought, for intruding on her.

CHAPTER XVIII

Joanna said, "I wouldn't want to have what you have. It has made me miserable for me."

"I haven't said anything, it's your meaning," John declared. "I'm not going to see you any more. I want you to have happiness, wish you might have it with it some of real joy, something of the joy of things, big things, out of the tumults that have come your way."

"I am afraid," Joanna said, "I am afraid of feeling. Perhaps it is only for a little while, but I am one thing to you, it would mean something else to me."

"There love is the gain, it is between us."

"You mean that because of this we must give up—give up each other?"

She was still very quiet, and patient.

"What else can we do? How else can we make a home?"

"Little house, with a parlor and kitchen, and a bedroom, and a bathroom, as we planned would hardly be available to you now, would it?"

"But John, we could still have the same house. That is one thing I can do to night away." She smiled a little.

"What we can make it larger, and we can move to it, and we can have a parlor, fountains and gardens, and a pool, and the stairways and a picture gallery we used to joke about when we saw them in the movie. We can have all those things now, John, and we can have them for ever." They laughed about it with big eyes and mouths.

"How can we plan it, and build it, and have it?"

"Will there be anything wrong about that?"

THE TRIALS OF MIDDLE-A

Much of the suffering, Wor

 Even a young man, who is er life when she was a young girl. The first signs of trouble came when she was 16. She fears the headaches, lassitude and other distressing weaknesses that have been a life of so many women at this period. Much of the anxiety and suffering that assail women approaching middle age can be avoided. This has been proven by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Dr. Williams says the health is given by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is the one thing necessary to carry through her years of trial is rich blood. Because of their direct action on the blood, these pills are the one remedy trusted by all for women's needs. Among the thousands who have found benefit from this remedy is Mrs. Allan Wagner, Lake, Ont., who says: "I was suddenly needed in the lives of my men and was sick and miserable, came so far from London that I was able to find a doctor who by his exertion would cause my mother to sit down with headaches and aches, and was in a depressed condition. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills recommended and decided to take a trial. It was fortunate I did so, for under the use of this elixir I was restored to good health and strength and feel like a new man. I never neglect an opportunity to recommend this remedy to who are run-down for I am very full for all the pills did for me.

For all ailments due to weak blood I use Williams' Pink Pills. I found a bottle of this medicine at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co., New York.

"If they only knew," is the title of the missionary drama on India to be given in church under auspices of the Women's Missionary Society on Friday evening October 29 at 8 o'clock. About 27 ladies take part in rendering it, after which a lantern lecture on India, will also be given. A special invitation is extended to all men folk as well as ladies.

Good interest was shown in the Rally services last Sunday with an attendance in the morning worship and Sunday school of 120 and in the evening 170. Two outstanding signs of the rallying interests throughout the church are the beginning of an orchestra in the Sunday school which will be a great help and inspiration to the S.S. department; the church choir has also re-assumed its work with the addition of several new and valued members. The Christian Endeavour will also re-organize for the winter's work next Sunday evening.

The newly organized Olds-Crossfield district ministerial Association had a fellowship supper on Monday evening at the Ev. parsonage. Ten ministers representing six of the denominational churches in the district were in attendance. The fellowship of this brotherhood was much enjoyed by all.

A very pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent at the home of Rev. Hayes, pastor of the United church here, when a group of ten ministers from Didsbury and surrounding district were gathered there to discuss the advisability of organizing for study and co-operation in matters relating to their calling, in public life. Those present were: Rev. Gilbert of Olds United church, Rev. Milton of Olds Baptist church, Rev. Herbson of Olds Presbyterian church, Rev. Roppel of Didsbury Evangelical church, Rev. Hallman of Didsbury Menonite church, Rev. Hayes

After some visitation followed by a lengthy but profitable discussion, organization took place as follows: president, Rev. Gilbert, Olds; vice-president, Rev. Reimer, Westcott; secretary-treasurer, Rev. Roppel, Didsbury.

A name was also chosen by which this organization will hereafter be known as the Olds-Crossfield District Ministerial Association.

Arrangements were also made for a monthly meeting with plans on foot for treatment of suitable topics on vital themes, and discussions on ministerial, church, and community problems which surely will prove worth while to the association as well as to the congregations and communities where these men are ministering in high and holy things.

After completing the organization, the group was ushered over to the Evangelical parsonage where a fellowship supper was prepared and waiting for their coming.

Next meeting will be in Carstairs on November 15th.

KNOX AND WESTCOTT UNITED CHURCH

We are living in a hasting world—a world full of conditions that we did not make and must accept. In the heart of a swaying crowd it is nonsense for a man to say, "I will not be swayed." The crowd settles the matter for him. But he can say "I will keep calm and collected" and he can make good his word.

The minister is taking for his text for Sunday October 31st, "He that believeth shall not make haste." The Prophet Isaiah claims that faith can teach a man an inward attitude of mind and heart toward all this busy world which shall save him from the curse—the spiritual blight of these feverish times, and which, when all men have learned it is as God means they should, shall banish from life all vain, cruel and unprofitable pressure. No one should miss the tonic of a sermon on such a timely and vital subject.

From seven acres of Ruby wheat threshed this week, John Metzger, living three miles west of town, obtained a little better than fifty bushels to the acre.
